Welcome

to the 2022 Indianapolis Home Show

Welcome to the 100th anniversary of the Indianapolis Home Show! An Indiana tradition, the oldest home show in North America offers the latest in decorating, landscaping, construction and remodeling ideas. Visitors to the Indianapolis Home Show can talk to hundreds of home and décor experts for advice and explore thousands of the newest home products.

For the Home Show's centennial anniversary, a special exhibit in Expo Hall highlights the last 10 decades of the show — visitors can see the trends, designs and homes that have shaped our lives and communities.

Fischer Homes unveils the Leland floorplan, part of its Masterpiece Collection, with a Modern Farmhouse elevation as the Centerpiece Home, built entirely inside Exposition Hall. This two-story, 3,376-square-foot home includes four bedrooms, 3.5 baths, a three-car garage and the option of a finished lower level. It also offers a two-story family room with shiplap fireplace, spacious hearth room with fireplace, gourmet island kitchen with butler's pantry, private owner's suite on the first floor and a flexible loft space.

The mother-daughter trio from TOB Design Firm — Joy Perkins, Macara Carsley and Danielle Harris — brings their unique flair to the Centerpiece Home interior. The aesthetic for the Leland is "modern haven."

"We believe the details make the design, and the Leland home is dressed head to toe for the party," Carsley said. "The furnishings command high-contrast movement fused by woven linens, sultry velvets and cozy performance fabrics. By presenting textural comfort to the home, it allows for the ease of everyday life with a dash of finesse."

Midwest Landscape Industries has some exciting features for the Centerpiece Home landscaping, including a linear fire feature and putting green. Plus, there is a pergola and outdoor kitchen along with special water features.

In the heart of West Pavilion, the Home Idea Center by Davis Homes offers real-world examples of exterior and interior spaces that will resonate and inspire new home buyers and those looking to update an existing home.

The 1,500-square-foot Home Idea Center highlights the latest design trends for custom kitchens, baths, closets, home entertainment and technology.

Additionally, visitors can take a virtual reality tour and virtually walk through a variety of homes and floor plans offered by Davis Homes.

"We want to provide a practical experience for Indianapolis Home Show visitors to give them ideas to help improve their homes for today as well as help them plan for tomorrow," said Jerrod Klein, vice president of sales and marketing at Davis Homes. "From kitchens to bathrooms, the Home Idea Center will give you great ideas for any home and any budget."

The Marketplace is a collaboration between The Artisan Markets Indianapolis and Tia Gross of Seek and Find Furniture and Home Décor. The Marketplace is the place where Home Show attendees can find everything from affordable furniture to unique knick knacks you won't see anywhere else. The artisans also show creative ways to take your next step in home décor during their stage presentations at the Home Show.

Need a festive way to kick off any good celebration? Home Show attendees get a hearty dose of tabletop inspiration from a group of local designers. From simple and stylish to elegant and elaborate, there are tablescapes for all styles on display in West Pavilion.

Also in West Pavilion, relax and wine down with reds, whites and bubbles at The Wine Bar by Booher Remodeling and PRP Wine International.

Then, head over to the Precision Outdoors Living Stage for stage presentations highlighting everything from furniture painting to decorating with decoupage. You'll learn about pergolas and pavilions with Precision Outdoors as well as planting and pruning with the Hoosier Gardener. Plus, get tips on creating a space you love on a budget you can afford with the Queen of Free!

This year's celebrity guests include appearances by renovation and design expert Mina Starsiak of "Two Chicks and a Hammer" as well as Carmel-based realtor Nina Klemm from the Bravo series "Flipping Exes." Also, local Indianapolis TV personality Patty Spitler takes the stage, and local design influencer Anissa Zajac offers advice on how to create a space that is both functional and beautiful. There's something to do for everyone!

Thanks for attending the 100th anniversary of the Indianapolis Home Show! Enjoy the show!

Looking Back on 100 Years of Indianapolis Home Shows

Take a trip back in time with the 100th anniversary feature

The Indianapolis Home Show is the oldest as well as one of the largest home shows in the country. According to the Encyclopedia of Indianapolis, the first Indianapolis Home Complete Exposition, its early name, was held at the Indiana State Fairgrounds in April 1922 and had 67,000 people in attendance. Sponsored by the Metropolitan Indianapolis Board of Realtors, the Home Show was a way to promote homeownership in Indianapolis.

This year, the Indianapolis Home Show returns for its 100th year!

An Indiana tradition, the show offers the latest in decorating, landscaping, construction and remodeling ideas. Visitors to the Indianapolis Home Show of today can talk to hundreds of home and décor experts for advice and explore thousands of the newest home products.

And for its centennial anniversary, the Home Show will give visitors the chance to see and experience the past with a special feature.

Designed and developed by Home Show Landscape Coordinator Bill Brown, the exhibit will have a museum feel as visitors enter Exposition Hall. Attendees can walk through the decades of the Indianapolis Home Show and see the trends, designs and homes that have shaped our lives and communities.

“Memories are powerful,” Brown said. “They can transport us back in time at a moment’s notice. And this exhibit will bring back memories of 100 years of the Home Show with hundreds of photos, programs, tickets, landscape images and show souvenirs.”

Additionally, visitors are invited to bring their own photos or souvenirs from past Indianapolis Home Shows to donate to the collection.

Come to the 2022 Indianapolis Home Show, and take a trip back in time when you step into Exposition Hall!

Entertainment and Privacy Coexist in the Centerpiece Home

Fischer Homes presents #1-selling Masterpiece floorplan, the Leland

“Fischer Homes is thrilled to be back at the Indianapolis Home Show,” said Fischer Homes Market President Indianapolis Division Brad Kriner. “And we are highlighting everything new we have at Fischer Homes — including new designs.”

For the Indianapolis Home Show’s centennial anniversary, Fischer Homes is unveiling the Leland floorplan, the #1-selling floorplan in its Masterpiece collection, with a Modern Farmhouse elevation.

This two-story, 3,376-square-foot home includes four bedrooms, 3.5 baths, a three-car garage and the option of a finished lower level. It also offers a two-story family room with shiplap fireplace, spacious hearth room with fireplace, gourmet island kitchen with butler’s pantry, private owner’s suite on the first floor and a flexible loft space.

“As you walk into the Leland, the first thing you notice is the two-story foyer — the ceiling heights are taller, which creates this dramatic entry space,” said Fischer Homes Director of Architecture Dan O’Connell. “Your eye is also really drawn into the back of the home; that two-story wall of windows allows so much natural light into the whole first floor, which really animates the space.”

Another unique feature of the Leland is the staircase to the second floor; it is wide open to the family room with a large open loft at the top of the stairs.

“The primary design inspiration for the Leland was to create a new first-floor owner’s suite design,” O’Connell said.

“The owner’s suite provides some great opportunities to personalize the home to your lifestyle, including the option to expand the back of the owner’s suite and provide direct access to the outdoor living space. The second-floor bedrooms are all located on the opposite side of the house from the owner’s suite, maximizing the privacy between those spaces.”

It’s the perfect choice for the homeowner who desires an open plan but still treasures those personal, private spaces within the home. The Leland floorplan is currently available in communities in Westfield and Fishers and is coming soon to Franklin Township.

The Centerpiece Home is located in Exposition Hall at the 2022 Indianapolis Home Show.

Centerpiece Home Interior Creates a Modern Haven

TOB Design Firm brings home comfort with a dash of finesse

The mother-daughter trio from TOB Design Firm — Joy Perkins, Macara Carsley and Danielle Harris — is bringing their unique flair to this year's Centerpiece Home interior. The aesthetic for the Leland floorplan from Fischer Homes is “modern haven.”

“We believe the details make the design, and the Leland home is dressed head to toe for the party,” Carsley said. “The furnishings command high-contrast movement fused by woven linens, sultry velvets and cozy performance fabrics.” According to Carsley, performance fabrics are very popular — they create a high-end feel but are still user-friendly for everyday living.

“That way you can still have your white sectional, but you don't have to be so delicate with it,” she said. “And by presenting that textural comfort to the home, it allows for the ease of everyday life with a dash of finesse.” Throughout the Centerpiece Home, visitors will notice high-contrast tones with shades of earth, making it a modern home interior complemented by neutral colors that reflect a cozier theme.

“First impressions are everything, and there are some definite memory points in this Centerpiece Home, including floating cedar shelves in the kitchen and the shiplap fireplace,” she said. “We have flat-panel cabinets throughout the home that appeal to a broad spectrum of people, but then there are details like custom stone cocktail tables that are almost like art pieces and are major focal points as well.” Other highlight pieces include several custom murals, three chandeliers in the great room and a hot pink acrylic vanity in the girl's room.

“From wood beams on the great room ceiling to black cabinets with gold hardware and gold fixtures, this home has plenty of architectural details that have given us the chance to get creative while bringing design and harmony to each space.”

TOB Design Firm is a nationally-recognized and award-winning full-service design center with a vast variety of furniture, fabrics and accessory vendors. In 1986, Danny and Joy Perkins opened their first furniture and design firm, Touch of Brass, in Florence, Ky. Their daughters, Danielle and Macara, joined the business after graduating from college, and, 36 years later, the business is stronger than ever.

The Centerpiece Home is located in Exposition Hall at the 2022 Indianapolis Home Show.

Centerpiece Home Landscaping Serves Slice of Americana

Midwest Landscape Industries creates backyard of any family's dreams

For the landscaping surrounding this year's Centerpiece Home, Midwest Landscape Industries is serving up a slice of Americana, with outdoor features worthy of any family's dreams.

"We have some exciting features for Home Show visitors, including a linear fire feature and putting green," said Midwest Landscape Industries Design Build Manager Bryce Kruger. "Plus, there will be a pergola and outdoor kitchen along with special water features."

One of the first features visitors will see is a patch of artificial turf with an autonomous lawnmower running as a stand-in for the dad of the house.

Tucked away in a corner between evergreens, ornamentals and perennials is a secret garden with a fireboulder centered on a crushed gravel patio. On the opposite end of the garden is a synthetic putting green.

Of course, the big backyard feature is the pool, which is complete with spillways. Nearby is a countertop fire pit table.

The last major feature is a dining/lounging space under a pergola with green walls and a TV wall. This area also includes an outdoor kitchen with another green wall for added texture. Large caliper trees and planters surround the area.

"The landscaping is a good representation of our company's many capabilities," Kruger said. "These are some of the wonderful outdoor living spaces we can create."

The Centerpiece Home is located in Exposition Hall at the 2022 Indianapolis Home Show.

HGTV'S "Good Bones" Star Shares Reno Tips and Tricks

Mina Starsiak Hawk is back for two stage appearances at the Home Show

Mina Starsiak Hawk, daughter of the Indianapolis-based "Two Chicks and a Hammer" mother-daughter duo with Karen E Laine, is bringing all her best stories from the sixth season of HGTV's "Good Bones" to the Indianapolis Home Show. "Good Bones" is the popular series that follows

Mina, a real estate agent and mom of two, along with her mom, Karen, as they buy properties throughout Indianapolis, demo them down to studs and renovate them into dazzling homes.

The pair began rehabbing homes in 2007 and quickly discovered a passion for home renovation, co-founding Two Chicks and a Hammer, Inc.

Two Chicks and a Hammer focuses on renovating homes in the Fountain Square and Bates Hendricks neighborhoods as well as the surrounding areas. Throughout their work in Indianapolis, Two Chicks and a Hammer found they could do well by doing good in their neighborhood. This drives the business and mission statement to "Revitalize Indianapolis One Property at a Time."

In 2014, the company was found by High Noon Entertainment, who filmed a pilot for HGTV. The pilot aired in May 2015 under the name "Two Chicks and a Hammer" on HGTV. In July of 2015, they began filming the first season of the show now known as "Good Bones."

Mina was also featured on the new HGTV series "Rock the Block," pitting four of the network's female renovation pros against one another in a contest to make over one whole house each in just four weeks and with a budget of $175,000.

In addition, both Mina and Karen were part of a new HGTV miniseries, "A Very Brady Renovation," showcasing the renovation of the Studio City, California house that was used for many of the exterior shots in the 1969-1974 American sitcom "The Brady Bunch." The house was purchased by HGTV in 2018 for $3.5 million. The renovation was completed in May 2019, and the show premiered on September 9, 2019. All six of the surviving Brady Bunch cast members appeared in the program.

"Two Chicks and a Hammer" owner and "Good Bones" star Mina Starsiak appears at the Home Show on Friday, January 28 and Saturday, January 29 — sharing home renovation tips, tricks and trends.

Carmel-Based Realtor Starts “Sleek by Nina K”

Realtor Nina Klemm shows passion for fashion translates to interior design

Originally from Boston, Nina Klemm moved to Carmel, Indiana, in 2007. Shortly after her move, Nina became a licensed realtor and quickly made a name for herself by selling a $2.2 million home as her first sale. She was awarded Rookie of the Year in both sales and units and became part of the President’s Club.

In 2015, Nina created Flipping Exes LLC after her breakup with her ex-boyfriend. They launched a YouTube channel and website with the goal of educating and assisting potential investors looking to cash in on the home flipping craze.

Their YouTube channel was seen by the agent of cooking star Bobby Flay, leading to the premiere of “Flipping Exes” in August 2019 on Bravo. The series followed Nina and her ex-boyfriend as they worked together to buy, renovate and sell high-end properties in Carmel, nicknamed “the Beverly Hills of the Midwest.”

Nina is now an agent with FC Tucker and leads the Nina Klemm Team. She is ranked in the top 1% of realtors in the country. Design is truly one of Nina’s passions. While working in real estate, she quickly learned her love of fashion was easily translatable to interior design.

Her talents for color, pattern and proportion has made her a staple for many investors in Indianapolis, from flipping to commercial spaces. Those talents also led Nina to design for many interesting clients, including television personalities, NFL stars and business moguls.

This led Nina to start “Sleek by Nina K,” which offers a full range of interior design solutions — from staging and styling to floor plans and new builds.

Nina and her team start by creating a design for the home and then manage the construction process. They handle everything from the demo to hardware selections, fully coordinating the project from start to finish. Once they are done, the home is move-in ready.

Meet Nina and hear about all the up-and-coming trends for home décor and renovation when she appears at the Home Show on Saturday, January 22 and Sunday, January 23!

Local Design Influencer Combines Modern and Vintage

Anissa Zajac offers advice on creating functional and beautiful spaces

Anissa Zajac is an interior designer and the CEO of House Seven design + build, which she owns with her husband Brian. As the mother of three and the founder of House Seven Design, Anissa has become a top influencer in her field.

What started as a simple DIY blog while living in her seventh home soon gained a large following on Instagram, eventually leading Anissa to open her own design firm, House Seven Design. Following soon after was House Seven Build, led by her husband.

Created from a dream and a love for all things design, Anissa and Brian are building their life around making things beautiful. The business combines Anissa's creative designs with Brian's skills for remodeling to turn any house into a dream home.

The design firm specializes in large-scale residential design with an emphasis on functional and beautiful spaces.

Anissa's unique approach to design combines her love of antiques with modern furnishings. This creates her ever-evolving aesthetic, which she refers to as vintage modern. It highlights cozy, layered textiles alongside rustic and often globally-inspired accessories.

Anissa and Brian opened their first brick-and-mortar store in Indianapolis, showcasing their favorite furnishings, textiles and décor — giving everyone who stops in the opportunity to bring a little of the House Seven brand home.

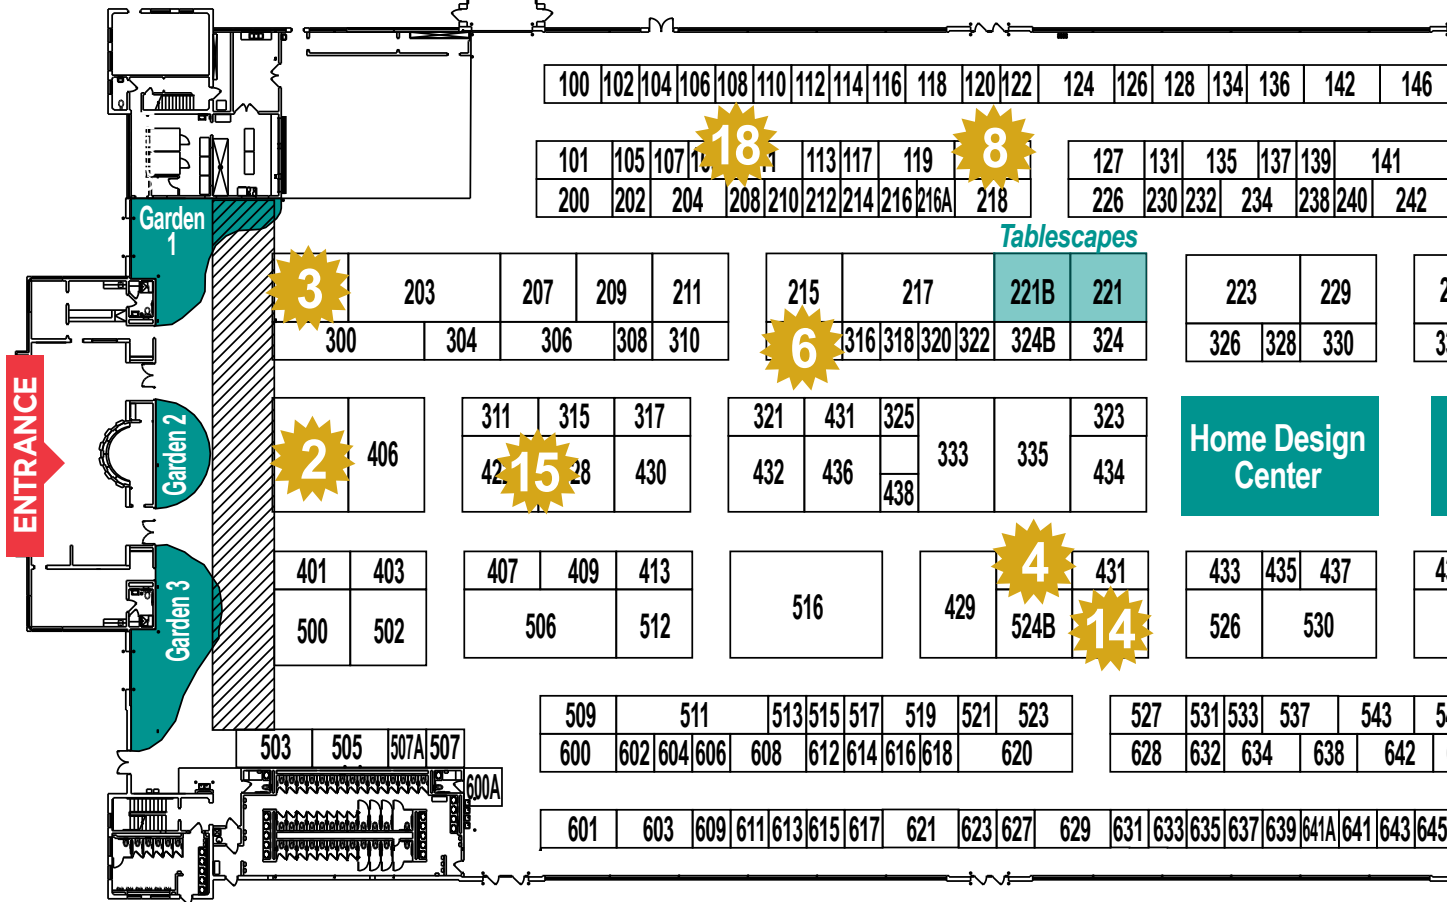

House Seven has been featured on “The Today Show” as well as “Domino” magazine, “Apartment Therapy,” “Huffington Post,” “HGTV Magazine” and more.

Come see Anissa on Saturday, January 22, and get advice on how to create a space that is both functional and beautiful.

The Artisan Markets and Seek and Find offer décor and demonstrations

At the Marketplace, Home Show attendees can find everything from affordable furniture to unique décor items you won't see anywhere else! This year, the Marketplace is a partnership between The Artisan Markets, celebrating its fourth appearance at the Indianapolis Home Show, and Tia Gross of Seek and Find Furniture and Home Décor — it's the pair's second collaboration. The Artisan Markets Indianapolis is an online marketplace displaying high-quality, refinished and handcrafted furniture. Led by Angie Brown of Gravel Road Home, specializing in custom furniture pieces and home accessories, the Artisan Markets is a juried collective that includes more than 100 artisans from across the country, all of whom are small business owners and entrepreneurs.

"We are excited to collaborate with Tia of Seek and Find to offer Home Show attendees a unique shopping experience," Brown said. "We enjoy seeing customers return to the Home Show each year specifically to purchase our décor items and accessories and look forward to showing them what new items we have to offer this year." In addition, the artisans offer educational opportunities for Home Show visitors. You can pick their brains at their booth or watch them share their work — and the magic behind it — on stage.

Swoon-Worthy Table Settings for All Occasions

Find design inspiration for your table from local designers

Need a festive way to kick off any good celebration? Tablescape prove that a beautiful table is more than just dishware.

Home Show attendees will get a hearty dose of tabletop inspiration from a group of local designers — Abby Hake Kellermeyer, Kate Elliott, Heather Zosso, Abby Wilkinson and Jamie Markley. From simple and stylish to elegant and elaborate, there are tablescapes on display to fit a range of styles.

One of the several tablescapes featured at the Indianapolis Home Show is Jamie Markley. Jamie is a lifestyle blogger and boutique owner who shares all things celebrating and decorating on her Instagram account (@hoosierhomestories).

“For as long as I can remember, I’ve loved decorating. Even as a child, I can remember being excited about my new canopy bed,” Markley said. “After I got married and my husband and I purchased our first home (a fixer upper), I really began to love and become more passionate about decorating and all things home. I love the opportunity to make people feel special and welcome in our home.”

Markley creates beautiful tablescapes for many unique occasions and events. “I think being invited and sitting down to a beautiful table makes people feel so special. It also can make your home feel welcoming and inviting. When I decorate a tablescape, I get excited about the theme and details but even more about the way it will make people feel special and welcome,” she said.

Tablescapes are just one of many design elements

Markley includes in her décor. “I enjoy sharing and offering encouragement/ideas for all things home, decorating and celebrating,” Markley said. “I especially love creating and decorating on a budget.”

Markley will be sharing and demonstrating some budget-friendly décor DIY ideas on the Home Show’s Precision Outdoors Living Stage on Saturday, Jan. 29. You don’t want to miss it!

The display of tablescapes is located in West Pavilion at the 2022 Indianapolis Home Show.

Pixie Gypsy Brings the Fun to Any Event

This mobile photo booth creates smiles anywhere and everywhere

A mother of two put her heart and soul into creating a mobile photo booth while her husband was on overseas deployment. Natasha Leavell's passion project to help pass the time is now bringing joy to central Indiana locals and out-of-town visitors alike!

Pixie Gypsy Mobile Photo Booth captures the fun, and silly, side of every guest who enters. It is a fully-remodeled 16' 1971 Pixie Piker camper turned into a mobile photo booth. It's elaborate décor and mobile-friendly nature make it a great addition to any event — from birthday parties to weddings and everything in between.

"I was scrolling through social media one day and saw a remodeled camper-turned-photo booth based in Australia," Leavell said. "Just by looking at the images, I knew I wanted to experience a fun photo booth like the one in Australia. I had a feeling other people would feel the same way, too!"

Natasha began renovating the Pixie Piker camper into her dream photo booth in 2019. Working mainly before her children woke up in the morning and during nap time, it took her a year to complete her vision. She now travels all over central Indiana bringing joy and laughter to corporate events, weddings and parties with the Pixie Gypsy Mobile Photo Booth.

"I customize the décor of the photo booth to match each specific event or color scheme," she said. "Being a part of so many celebrations has been a blast!"

Stop by the Pixie Gypsy at the Indianapolis Home Show and see this one-of-a-kind photo experience. With props and fun items to use, this photo booth brings out the silly side of everyone.

"I hope this passion project of mine brings joy to all who enter," Leavell said. "My absolute favorite part of this whole experience has been hearing the giggles from people of every age!"

Not In My Backyard with Jo Ellen Meyers Sharp

How to correct poor landscape practices — from planting to pruning

Jo Ellen Meyers Sharp is the Hoosier Gardener — she's a popular speaker about all kinds of dirty topics to experienced and novice gardeners, new homeowners and just curious individuals. And as a confessed hortiholic, she admits her eyes are too big for her yard.

She describes her life as a mosaic, making a living from various types of work: writing, speaking, garden coaching and landscaping.

She's a 25-year, award-winning veteran of print journalism and owner of Write for You! LLC, a freelance writing and editing business. Her stories have appeared in several national and local publications, including the "American Gardener," "Indiana Gardening," "Angie's List" magazine, "Edible Indy" and more.

You can find her blog at hoosiergardener.com, where she offers an informed, yet personal take on natural gardening in Indiana.

Jo Ellen is the immediate past president of GardenComm: Garden Communicators International, an organization of professional communicators in the green industry educating others about horticulture, agriculture, gardening, natural systems and the environment. She also is a garden coach and has a four-season commercial and residential container planting business.

For two decades, she has worked at a large, independent garden center in Indianapolis, including a stint as buyer of perennials, trees and shrubs. She's co-author of the "Indiana Gardener's Guide," author of "The Visitor's Guide to American Gardens," and contributor to "Oxford Companion to the Garden" and "Phaidon's The Gardener's Garden."

At the Indianapolis Home Show, Jo Ellen presents "Not In My Backyard." She examines poor landscape practices and shows attendees how to correct them — everything from pruning to planting.

Meet Jo Ellen as she digs into poor landscape practices and other dirty topics on Thursday, January 27.

Dreamy decks, patio inspiration, finding the perfect pergola and more ... yes, you can craft the backyard of your dreams! Check out all the Home Show stage presentations on the Precision Outdoors Living Stage, designed and constructed by Precision Outdoors.

Family-owned and operated since 2000, Precision Outdoors delivers high-quality landscape design and build services to the residents of Indianapolis and surrounding areas. Managing Partner Caleb Harbert said visitors to the Indianapolis Home Show will find Precision Outdoors has created a space to learn during the stage presentations as well as experience elements of backyard elegance!

Stop by the Precision Outdoors Living Stage to take part in three, live learning opportunities. First up is “Planning a Backyard Oasis.” During this presentation, attendees will learn how to make their backyards pop and how to make big-time decisions that may seem overwhelming.

“We will walk through how to decide what you are planning to do, the key decisions that have to be made at the start and the pitfalls or issues that can arise if you don’t plan things ahead of time,” Harbert said. Plus, dive into several types of pool decks, structures, fire features and other elements.

Another presentation is “Outdoor Design Elements,” in partnership with Belgard. Outdoor projects have so many options, so how do you choose? You’ll get a sneak peek at new products and solutions to make your outdoor dreams come true.

Finally, “Pergolas, Pavilions, Gable Roofs and More!” These one-of-a-kind key features are essential to any outdoor living and entertainment space. And Precision Outdoors will walk you through finding the perfect addition, explaining the variety of outdoor structures along with the benefits and drawbacks of each. “We’ll walk through cool elements to add to structures, such as lighting and outdoor heaters, to help maximize any feature you decide to build into your outdoor space,” Harbert said.
