THE SEASON OF REGROWTH AND RENEWAL has finally arrived – Spring! For 75 years, we have been providing the latest in home improvement and gardening to consumers at the Salt Lake Home + Garden Show presented by Biograss Sod Farms. Our team has carefully selected the finest in home and garden products, services, and vendors for a one-stop shopping experience designed to manage all of your home improvement needs. To us, your satisfaction is our most important goal and a reflection of another accomplished year. Spring is the time for a fresh start. Let us be your guide!

As winter's frost begins to thaw, it is the perfect occasion to embark on new home and garden projects. Whether you're considering redesigning a room in your home or simply sprucing up your yard for the warmer months ahead, this year's show will provide the information you need to complete your plans.

Our selection of products and services was chosen with your needs in mind. We incorporated a variety of reliable, top-quality companies into the show so that you have options and resources to trust. We encourage you to take advantage of some of our stage presentations throughout the day.

Guest speakers, all experts in their field, will be able to answer your questions and offer useful tips. Among the list of guest speakers will be celebrity child actor "Peter Brady", Christopher Knight star of ABC's "The Brady Bunch" and HGTV's "A Very Brady Renovation". A reluctant icon, Christopher has focused his adult years on interests beyond the entertainment industry, starting with the world of technology and expanding his interests beyond that as an entrepreneur. Get décor inspiration with ideas from his home furnishings line on Friday and Saturday.

Finally, take time to browse our feature garden landscapes from local landscaping companies to gather inspiration for the season. To make the most out of the seminars offered, refer to the stage schedules and plan out your show's visit.

For your parking convenience, we offer free parking, as well as valet parking on Saturday on a first come basis at the Mountain America Expo Center.

Your thoughts are very important to us! Join the conversation on Facebook by sharing your home and garden ideas, ongoing projects, and what you hope to learn at this year's show.

Thank you for the continued support!

GET TO KNOW THE REAL PETER BRADY

Meet Christopher Knight of The Brady Bunch and HGTV's A Very Brady Renovation

ONCE AND FOREVER A "BRADY," Christopher Knight met life as a child actor, starring as "Peter Brady" in the immortal American classic TV show "The Brady Bunch". A reluctant icon, Christopher has focused his adult years on interests beyond the entertainment industry, starting with the world of technology and expanding his interests beyond that as an entrepreneur. Most recently, his business endeavors evolved into Chris' latest off-screen success, when his line of online home furnishings called Christopher Knight Home skyrocketed to an astounding success, quickly landing in homes of millions.

Yet, due to the ever-present legacy of all things "Brady," Christopher's successful endeavors beyond showbiz still exist in peaceful subordination to his portrayal of "Peter." In the early 2000's, Christopher returned to his entertainment roots, once again re-establishing himself as an actor, host, spokesperson and entertainment figure, having starred or otherwise participated in the plethora of periodic "Brady" films, television movies, series, "Brady" gatherings and retrospectives.

In 2019, Knight and his "Brady" siblings took part in a unique TV experiment with HGTV's "A Very Brady Renovation," where they recreated the iconic "Brady Bunch" house in real life, inside the home only used for the exterior shots of the sitcom. This "experiment" broke TV records and still holds the title of one of the most watched cable TV's programs of all time.

We wanted to know more about Christopher Knight, here's what you probably didn't know.

Q. What project are you currently working on?

A. Outside of Christopher Knight Home, I launched a production company with my partner, Phil Viardo, called Former Prodigy Media. We have recently completed an award-winning documentary called Truelove, The Film. In 2021, Former Prodigy also made its foray into the narrative genre, as a production partner on the highly anticipated, new animated feature film “The Inventor” from Oscar-nominated Jim Capobianco (“Ratatouille”). Also in pre-production are our first two live action feature films and new television series projects with award-winning talent attached both in front and behind the camera, all slated for production in 2023. I have also teamed up with my “Brady” brother Barry Williams for “The Real Brady Bros” Podcast, a weekly episodic recap and retrospective of our classic Brady Bunch episodes.

Q. What’s one outdoor tip for big impact in landscaping or curb appeal?

A. I would have to say lighting. Good exterior lighting can add a magical quality to a home. It infuses your home with drama and architectural depth. It can be cleverly used to emphasize your home’s architectural strengths, while drawing attention away from any shortcomings.

Q. What’s your next home project?

A. My next home project is an office conversion, taking my office from a traditional “office” workspace to a multi- functioning office/recording studio. I’m working on equipping the space with proper sound proofing and a ceiling grid for lights, greenscreen and appropriate backdrops for at home video production. If the Pandemic has taught me anything, it has illuminated the ability we all now have to self produce content at home, effectively and affordably.

Q. When you design a room, what is the most important interior design advice you give?

A. Less is more. Be mindful of scale! Take measurements and give at least four feet of space around furniture that serve as traffic areas. I’ve learned that not all people are able to think in an imagined three-dimensional space. As a result, some have a hard time anticipating the fit and flow of a room. Finding the balance between too little and too much is sort of a “Goldilocks” zone, and important to consider thoroughly.

Q. What is an outdated home trend you hope doesn’t come back?

A. I’m hoping as I imagine everyone does, the sprayed acoustic ceiling we commonly refer to as “popcorn” ceiling never makes a comeback of any kind.

Q. Tell us about your pet(s).

A. Let me tell you about our pets. We have two majestic adult cats and an adorable puppy. Titus and Grayson are our cats. Stella is our puppy. Both cats were rescues - Titus was a feral kitten and Grayson a sheltered one-year-old. Grayson appears to be a Maine Coon and Titus, a Turkish Van. Stella is our new addition. She’s an irresistible one and half year-old Cavalier King Charles Spaniel. Stella came home as an eight-week-old 4 lb puppy. Titus and Grayson are 17 and 18 lbs. We couldn’t be sure if the cats’ interest in tiny Stella was a result of a hunting instinct or simple curiosity. Stella was so small. Titus, the alpha always hovered near her. Soon enough it became clear, he was lording over her - overseeing her as part of his tribe. We now refer to him as Mufasa. We are one big happy, multi-species family.

USING COLOR IN YOUR HOME

It's no secret that color is back with a vengeance.

This year we are seeing an influx of retro-inspired green cabinets, moody black walls, and purple statement couches. Color is not something to be intimidated by and can bring dimension and mood into your home.

Learn how to include more vibrancy in your home with temporary and permanent solutions.

THE POWER OF COLOR

Interior designers have become experts in color theory and psychology, teaching us how color can achieve specific feelings. A simple hue change can make a room feel more calm, cheerful, comfortable, or dramatic. Not only does it change the feeling, but it can change the perception of the size of a room, making it feel more intimate or spacious. Decide on the feeling or mood you want a room to reflect and base your color decisions on that. For example, blue evokes feelings of freshness and calmness, so including soft blue hues in your furnishings can make a space feel airy and tranquil.

USING COLOR WISELY

Knowing how to use color in your home tastefully is not daunting when you know tips that will save you stress, money and time. The 60-30-10 rule of color will become your best friend if you're on the search to learn how to incorporate more color in your home. When decorating a home, divide colors into percentages: 60% dominant color, 30% secondary color, and 10% accent color. Often, the dominant color will be walls, rugs or large pieces of furniture. The secondary color could be curtains, accent chairs or accent walls. The remaining 10% will be the splashes of color that can be pulled from artwork or printed fabric.

If you are looking to add more personality, mood, or depth to your home, color will be your best friend. Most importantly, find a palette that speaks to the feelings you want to create in each room and get designing. Find a color expert at the Salt Lake Home + Garden Show and kick off the spring season with fresh colors!

7 TIPS FOR EXTENDING YOUR LIVING SPACE OUTDOORS

As home prices increase, space gets smaller and living gets more confined. Your living space doesn't need to be bound to the walls of your home. Your yard can be an extension of your home with just as much comfort and versatility as a living room. By creating a flow and blurring the lines between indoor and outdoor spaces, your home can be maximized.

1 Light It Up

Lighting can easily and affordably transform an outdoor space into a comfortable living area. Overhead statement lights can bring the elegance and personality of your indoor decor outside. If overhead lighting is not an option, by adding lights along a pathway, or mounted to the side of the house, guests will naturally be drawn to the space to lounge. The welcoming glow will elevate and define the space to more than just a backyard.

2 Furniture Upgrade

Ditch the plastic and vinyl outdoor furniture for more refined furniture like couches and chairs. These days, there are a plethora of options of outdoor furniture that could fit in a living room if it weren't for the weather-resistant materials. Dress up your patio by arranging furniture as you would in a living room with sofas, coffee tables, rugs, and chairs.

3 Prepare for the Cold

Create a cozy environment for all guests by adding heat lamps or heaters. These elements will add an enchanting glow and warmth that will draw guests in even during colder weather. For more affordable options, look to candles and fire bowls to have a similar effect.

Find Cover

Overhead cover might be more of an investment in your outdoor space, but it can be done affordably through pergolas, tents, or privacy walls. Not only does coverage add privacy and protection from the elements, but it also creates a unique focal point and defines your space. This will also extend your use of the space throughout the year to maximize your investment.

5

Outside Decor

Who said that decorations don't belong outside? By drawing inspiration from your indoor decorations and extending them to your outdoor space, you'll make your patio an extension of your interior. Use similar textures, patterns, and accents to make your area consistent and blur these lines. Create convenience and comfort by adding items like beverage carts, magazine holders and blanket bins so all that you need is outside.

6

Segment your Space

Break up your space and add flow by creating multiple seating and entertaining areas. Just like the inside of a house, create an intentional space dedicated to eating or relaxing to optimize the function and comfort of guests. Dividing the areas can also highlight key focal points such as landscape designs, furniture, or light fixtures.

7

What's Below

You might not think about what you are standing on, but it often makes the biggest difference. Connect your area to your house by adding flagstone to even out the ground and add a rustic texture. Consider adding a split level with artificial decking to create dimension and avoid bumps and dips in the ground. If your space is flat, artificial turf is a low-maintenance option that can be dressed up for an elevated look. Working with a budget? Try an outdoor area rug for additional texture, pattern, and style.

These options aren't limited to homeowners with large outdoor areas. Renters, budgeters, DIY masters, and more can find options to extend living space into the backyard. Find inspiration and prepare for your spring projects at the Salt Lake Home + Garden Show!
