THE SEASONAL CHANGES are all around us—from the vibrant color of the leaves to the cooler temperatures outside. This year's Deseret News Home Show is also seeing a change in design style, renovation trends and Home Show features!

We're excited to announce a lineup of local celebrity guests, industry experts, and high-quality products and services featured at the show. This fall it is our pleasure to welcome Trent & Allie, a couple of DIY adventurers with their own highly-viewed YouTube channel to our design stage. They have traveled the world in their camper van for three years, driving all the way from Canada, through Central America, to the southernmost tip of South America, before deciding to turn a plot of land in the mountains of Utah into their home base. They are ready to share their journey and their favorite DIY renovation projects with you at the show on Friday, Oct. 8 and Saturday, Oct. 9.

We also encourage you to explore our new features, including the three designer rooms decorated by The Nest Furnishings. And, be sure to stop by the kitchen stage for some tasty bites and pick-up some new recipes for some of your favorite meals, appetizers and desserts while you are there.

Thank you for joining us at the 2021 Deseret News Home Show. Your thoughts are very important to us, so please join us on Facebook!

See you at the Home Show,
Ian Richmond and the Home Show Team

RV Design

A RENOVATION REVOLUTION

RV renovations are all the rage these days! Since the pandemic, many are choosing to hit the open road instead of flying to their destinations. The convenience of a home on wheels and the option to take your home with you on the open road is undoubtably appealing. The downfall? RV interiors are infamously known for being dingy and outdated. For this reason, RV renos have taken the DIY scene by storm!

Whether you are looking to renovate an RV, fifth wheel, sprinter van or school bus, the possibilities are limitless. Check out our suggestions for making your home on wheels the king (or queen) of the road!

THE POWER OF PAINT

Never underestimate the power that a fresh paint job can hold. You can paint almost anything in your RV, from the walls to the cabinets to the ceiling. While it's no small task, it will give your RV new life! To lessen the workload, make it a family effort.

Be sure to choose a color that will brighten the space and bring a modern touch. White is a popular color because it can make a small space appear bigger and cleaner. Other neutral colors can also have the same effect. Worried the white is too bland? Bring in a pop of color with the curtains, rugs, and other décor items.

SWITCH OUT THE FLOORING

Replacing the flooring can change the entire look and feel of any space. Light-weight materials like laminate, vinyl, and carpet are your best options, as real hard wood floors are heavier and may reduce the fuel efficiency of the vehicle by adding extra weight. Consider vinyl and laminate for easy installation, durability, and cost efficiency. Carpet is a great option for those wanting a cozy at-home feel. It's also easy to replace and sound absorbing. To save on costs, try using a small remnant from a flooring store.

MODERNIZE THE COUNTERTOPS

Add a modern touch to your home on wheels by updating the countertops in the kitchen and bathroom. Since the counter space in RVs is usually limited, this project can be super affordable. Popular countertop renovations include materials like vinyl, granite, Formica, wood, and even paint. There are many countertop paint kits available that yield amazing results with finishes ranging from granite to concrete.

ADD A BEAUTIFUL BACKSPLASH

When installing a backsplash in your RV, you want it to be a few things: easy to install, affordable and easy to clean! Peel and stick backsplashes seem to be the most popular among RV renovators for these reasons, and they are also easily accessible. Take a trip to your local home improvement store and browse the many styles and options available, you won't be disappointed. There's something for every style. Bonus: this project may only take an afternoon's time! If the faux-tile look isn't for you, roll up your sleeves and do the real thing, but make sure the tiles are installed properly so they don't come off, potentially causing damage to the RV.

REPLACE THE FRUMPY FURNITURE

Go from stock to stylish by switching out the old furniture! Ditch the dusty and unsettling patterns by adding a personal touch with pieces and fabrics that you'd want in your home. This can be fairly easy to do and doesn't need to cost an arm and a leg. Shop resale, recover the cushions, or consider a couch cover to save money. Remember to consider the weight of the furniture you put in your RV and the amount of space they will take up. Futons are a great option for functionality and space saving.

DON'T FORGET TO DECORATE

Don't forget to add your own personal touches to the finished reno, but don't go overboard. In a small space, less is more! Keeping to a singular theme or style will bring cohesion to the space. Simple décor updates like new curtains, throw pillows, cabinet pulls, and lighting fixtures can go a long way. Add even more personality by decorating with souvenirs from your travels.

Decals and stickers are a great option to consider since they won't fall off the walls while you're travelling. Other wall décor can easily be hung on the walls with adhesive strips and hooks.

RENT OUT YOUR RENO

If you don't use your RV as often as you'd like, you can try earning back the money you spent on your renovation and rent out your RV. There are many happy travelers who prefer to stay in an RV, or similar. You can use websites like Airbnb and VRBO to list your reno. Your renovations will allow you to rent it out for a higher price and offer the customer a more desirable experience.

We hope these suggestions help you on your RV reno journey. Join the RV renovation revolution and we'll see you on the road. Happy travels!

MEET YOUTUBERS AND DIY ADVENTURERS TRENT & ALLIE

From Camper Renovation to Home Design,
They Take Ordinary to EXTRAordinary

TRENT & ALLIE are a couple of DIY adventurers who have traveled the world in their camper van for three years, driving all the way from Canada, through Central America, to the southernmost tip of South America, before deciding to turn a plot of land in the mountains of Utah into their home base. Their challenge is to live every day to the fullest and encourage others to do the same, even in the midst of blizzards, plumbing disasters, and crane malfunctions. It's been a whirlwind building a home at an elevation of 8,000 ft. and they are excited to share their renovation and home-building adventures with you in person at the Desert News Home Show. You can also catch them every Monday and Friday at 7 a.m. on YouTube.

MEET TRENT & ALLIE

Q. Where do you go online to find inspiration?

A. YouTube, which probably sounds ironic since we put our own content on it twice a week, but we're also avid consumers of YouTube and love watching the spectrum of DIY projects and the creative ways people build and style their spaces.

Q. What was the last picture you took with your phone?

A. Trent - a photo of my thumb having been smashed by a hammer. Allie - a photo of our highly anticipated stairs being built up to our front door

Q. What project have you been most proud to work on?

A. We've built two RAM Promaster camper vans from scratch and fully remodeled our 2002 23 ft. Terry camp trailer, but building our own house in the mountains at 8,000 ft. elevation has been the most difficult and rewarding project we've ever undertaken. From the design and architecture involved, the permitting and inspection process, and the problem-solving and long hours needed to bring it to life— it's been the toughest, yet best decision we've ever made.

Q. Could you live in a tiny home?

A. Yes, 10000%—we've lived tiny for the past four years, in two different vans and a camp trailer. Living in a van forces you to minimize what you carry around and realize that the most important things in life are the people and places you experience, not the physical items. It's a liberating feeling to shed your unnecessary belongings and allow your brain to focus on, and really see, the world around you.

Q. Would you rather upgrade your closet, bathroom or kitchen?

A. Kitchen—we love cooking and gathering family and friends over a delicious homemade meal. The kitchen is a focal point of the home for us and the most lived-in part of the house.

Q. What are your best small space living hacks?

A. A lot of hooks to hang things on, and making sure that everything has a place. If there isn't a place for it, either it needs to go, or something else needs to go!

Q. What décor items are worth splurging on?

A. Lighting—throw pillows and rugs are great but they get changed out frequently and aren't worth a steep price tag, but lighting is one thing that we'll splurge on to give a room a definitive look.

Q. If you had to move to another country, which would you pick and why?

A. After driving our van from Utah through Central America, to the southernmost tip of South America over two years, we have incredible memories in every country we visited. However, Chile stands out as having some of the most diverse landscapes- sophisticated cities like Santiago and beautifully rugged and unforgiving mountains of Patagonia, and the people were some of the best we encountered!

Q. What advice would you give to your 10-year-old self?

A. Don't try so hard to fit in; be yourself and continue to think outside the box! And be nice to your mom!

Q. Fill in the blank: The three things I can't live without are _____.

A. Coffee, our dogs, and adventure :)

On the Design Stage, Trent & Allie will showcase their DIY adventures. They are also eager to answer guest questions and share advice. Catch Trent & Allie on the Design Stage presented by Van Sickle Design & Drafting on Friday and Saturday!

STYLISH SPACES

SIX TIPS FOR CREATING THE PERFECT HOME OFFICE

Are you one of the many who now work from home? If so, you know that since you're spending more time at home, finding room for a home office is key. For many, it can be difficult trying to find the space for a home office when your square footage doesn't allow. Extending and renovating your spaces may be the way to go. So, it's time to get creative and think outside the box!

Here are our tips for creating a work-from-home area with spaces that may already exist in your current home:

DON'T IGNORE THE UNCOMMON SPACES

An office space doesn't have to be large to be effective. Look around your house and take notice of nooks, closets, and corners that are unoccupied. Small rooms, vacant spaces, and awkward corners should never be overlooked! The addition of a small desk and some shelves can truly transform a dull corner into a practical and stylish space. The area underneath a staircase even has great potential for a workspace.

In most homes, the bedroom and hall closets can fit a desk, along with plenty of shelving. If you want the space to be unseen, simply close the closet doors. Or remove the doors entirely if you don't mind the desk being noticeable.

COMMUNAL COMMAND CENTERS

Take advantage of commons areas like the kitchen, family room, or formal dining or living room. Conveniently, some kitchens already come with built-in desks, allowing you to be in on the action, making it easier to attend to other tasks without having to move very far. No kitchen desk? Consider installing one yourself! Unused breakfast nooks are also a great option for office spaces.

For creating an enjoyable working space in the family room, consider following the sun and setting up a desk under your favorite window for an office with a view. Also remember to follow the flow of the room and take advantage of furniture pieces that already exist, like lamps and chairs. If you have an open floor plan, try placing a desk behind your sofa. To set up a successful work environment in your living room, ensure that your shared space strikes a good balance of blending into one another while also retaining their individual functions. This will help keep your work life separate from your home life as much as possible.

Often formal dining or living rooms are a waste of space, going unused most of the year. Renovating one of them into a home office can be a great space-saving solution. If more privacy is what you're after, consider installing a sliding barn door or stylish curtains to the entrance. Stand-alone storage options like bookshelves, credenzas, and cabinets work well in these spaces while also adding a decorative flair.

BEAUTIFY YOUR BUILT-IN

Consider taking advantage of a built-in. Although this idea might take a little more work—the end result is worth it. Replace one of the cabinet sections of a built-in with a desk. This will give you a workspace with storage space without taking up extra room.

GET MORE OUT OF YOUR GUEST ROOM

Put your guest room to work! It's not always the most practical idea to dedicate an entire room to the infrequent house guest. Building cabinets, installing open shelving with stylish bins, or adding a desk into your guest room allows for a beautiful and functional workspace for you, while also giving your occasional guest some space for their things as well.

If more space is what you're after, explore the option of replacing the bed with a comfortable sofa sleeper. Use the sofa bed for lounging during the day and as a fold out bed for guests. A murphy bed is also an optimal space saving solution for guest room offices. Keep the room simple and the desk area easy to pack away for when guests do arrive. This can be easy to achieve with a rolling desk to keep the room convertible.

GET VERTICAL

No room for a desk and a chair? No problem! A standing desk might be the solution you've been looking for. There are many health benefits. Many people have said it even boosts productivity throughout the day. You can also maximize your home's dreaded dead space by adding cabinets and shelving that extend all the way to the ceiling.

TAKE YOUR OFFICE OUTDOORS

Our world requires that we find new and creative ways to work. If you're lucky enough to live in a climate that is enjoyable year-round, consider setting up your office space outdoors. Take advantage of your porch, patio, or shed while enjoying Mother Nature. Screened porches, awnings, and sheds are great for providing sun cover and protection from inclement weather. Renovating your current shed with a desk, rug, and lighting can be a great office alternative. If your budget allows, there are companies that offer prefab backyard office sheds. These custom sheds provide privacy, function, a work-life/home-life separation, and a commute that can't be beat!

- > Siding Exterior
- > New Construction
- > Interior Walls
- > 80% Noise Reduction
- > Huge Utility Savings
- > Improves Comfort in Home

ATTIC INSULATION

If you haven't insulated in the past 3 years you may be due for a checkup. Homes built before 2016 had different building codes than new construction, which means you may be able to receive rebates to compensate you for the work to reduce your utility bills.

- > Premium fiberglass blow in
- > Net and Blow
- > Spray Foam
- > Baffles
- > Attic Dams
- > Attic Hatches

RADIANT BARRIER

We are the exclusive dealers for Copperfect Radiant Barrier for the State of Utah. It is made with 99.99% pure copper with a lifetime warranty. This is installed between the trusses of the pitch of the attic.

- > Reflects up to 97% IR in both directions, helping to reject heat in the summer and retain heat in the winter.
- > Reduces ceiling heat flux by as much as 60%
- > Huge Utility Savings
- > Gables
- > Rafters
- > Knee Walls

CUSTOM WINDOWS & DOORS

We are trusted with most installations for all our competitors in the State of Utah. We sell and install custom windows and doors.

- > Multi layered, low emissivity (low E) glass, with Argon gas.
- > Weathertight fit
- > Thick insulated glass unit with WARM-EDGE Technology offers increase energy efficiency and noise reduction
- > Huge Utility Savings

WHEN IT'S SNOWING, YOUR PROGRAM'S STILL SHOWING!
