MEET OUR EXPERTS

Sebastian Clovis

HGTV Canada Celebrity Contractor

As one of HGTV Canada's most beloved personalities, Sebastian has enjoyed nearly a decade on the air waves as host of Save My Reno and Tackle My Reno on top of being an indelible part of hit ensemble series' Home To Win and Family Home Overhaul. Sebastian is also the proud creator and executive producer of the highly anticipated new series, Gut Job.

In his role as President of Shoots N' Leaves Media, Sebastian will be the driving creative force for developing how the multifaceted world of general contracting is brought to screen. Merging his media savvy creativity with his real world renovation acumen, Sebastian will continue to be the brain trust of what is happening in the renovation industry and will lead the team to bring together industry experts, new trends, trades and the stories of homeownership in an entertaining and innovative way.

Presentation Topic: How to generate unique ideas and Things to consider when renovating (both as a homeowner and as a builder).

Tiffany Pratt

Designer and Television Personality

Tiffany Pratt is a multi-disciplinary creative force with a true passion for her work. She has an unmistakable, standout style and is often referred to as the Queen of Colour.

Tiffany's creative career started in New York, working within the fashion, beauty, and toy industry. It expanded into the opening of a Toronto art studio where she taught children and adults the true magic of making. Her talents as a creative director, love for colour, and transformation have been showcased for many years on multiple North American DIY television shows, clients' homes and businesses. In 2016, Tiffany authored her first book titled 'This Can Be Beautiful,' which showcases her love of reimagining objects into new useful things.

Amongst all her interests and projects, she's built a busy and successful residential and commercial design practice. Tiffany's design mantra is: "Design is in everything and is not only about styling for the moment but about designing for who we are and expressing that in our choices."

Tiffany leaves her heart and a trail of glitter wherever she goes. She lives in Toronto, Ontario, with her husband Zach and dachshund Poppy.

Presentation Topic: The power of colour, paint and how to transform what you already have into your dream space!

MEET OUR EXPERTS

Megan Golightly

Professional Home Organizer

When your life is simplified and decluttered, you can enjoy the small moments. Megan Golightly loves what she does and has been doing it for 14 years. She has a passion for problem solving, organizing projects big and small, and working with families to see their homes and lives transformed. Her goal is to help you feel at ease in your home and eliminate the negative feelings you may have about your clutter. It's often hard work but worth it! Megan holds a degree in Psychology and on-going study in Neuroscience peaked her curiosity on how the brain works in relation to the spaces in our homes. It's unhealthy to have nagging critical thoughts about the state of our homes. Whether or not we believe these words, our subconscious mind does.

Deciding how and where to start can be paralyzing. Megan can help motivate, inspire and uncover the psychology of organizing. You can find Simplified's Instagram account full of tips, tricks, how-tos, before and afters and more!
